Fire Alarm.

Bow Island has had a Fire Alarm Siren installed on the corner of Main Street. This is a fine thing for the town, and it is to be hoped that in case of fire (especially at night) that every resident will be sure to hear it, it is also to be sincerely hoped that the Siren will never be needed.

Mrs. J. W. Proudfoot entertained a few friends to tea last Wednesday, amongst whom were, Madam Ancion, Mrs. Louise Ancion and Jeannette, Mrs. A. Nanson and little Joseph. It is always a pleasure to visit with Mrs. Proudfoot.

Mackenzie King Is Liberal Leader

Ottawa. — Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, minister of labor in the Laurier administration, is the new leader of the Liberal party. He was so acclaimed on the eve of the close of the national Liberal convention, when his most formidable rival, Hon. W. S. Fielding, moved that his election be made unanimous. Mr. King, who subsequently spoke, was given an ovation, as was also Mr. Fielding, when he congratulated his successful opponent on his victory. Mr. King was elected on a vote which was officially the fourth ballot, but, as a matter of fact, only three votes were taken. This because some of the delegates cast their votes in the third ballot before Hon. George P. Graham had announced his decision to retire and the 438 for Mr. Fielding, majority for the former of 38.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

Bread Shortage in London

British Labor Situation Is Still Unchanged and Strikes Continue. London. — There is virtually no change in the labor situation. The strikes of bakers and Yorkshire miners are still unsettled, but the railway position in London is becoming its normal condition. The situation at Liverpool is greatly improved, but the tramway strike continues and there is a great scarcity of bread. It was announced in the house of commons that for the week ending July 26, the coal output was nearly 10 per cent. under the previous average. Other interesting announcements in parliament were that the government was preparing a bill for future regulation of the liquor trade and also that in a few exceptional cases Germans were being admitted to England to trade, under close scrutiny. No indication as to the contents of the bill with regard to the liquor trade was given.

In the east end of London, where the bread shortage is most acute, queues formed outside the independent bakeries, but were mostly disappointed. No indication as to the contents of the bill with regard to the liquor trade was given.

Members of the United States peace delegation said that there are no United States troops now in Budapest, and that none will be sent there. It was added that the only United States citizens in Hungary are civilian experts in officers, and possibly a few soldiers engaged in relief work.

The supreme council has sent a note to the Rumanian authorities begging them to conform to the decisions of the entente and not to embarrass by previous decisions, the work of the inter-allied investigating commission sent to Budapest.

Rumondia's Millions.

Toronto. — Millions of dollars of the estate of the late Lord Rumondia, are now in their way from the old country to Canada, where they are vested in the Cypri, Porcine, Abidul and Peace River portions of Canada.

This information was given by W. Lloyd-Evans, of Vancouver, who was secretary for the late Lord Rumondia and has been looking after the interests of the estate in Canada for several months.

Ira Stratton Resigns.

Winnipeg. — Ira Stratton, president of the Manitoba Civil Service association, has resigned.

Rumania Must Observe Terms of Armistice

Paris. — Nicholas Mian, of the Rumanian peace delegation, was summoned before the supreme council which gave him a communication for his government, saying that the Rumanian ultimatum to Hungary cannot be recognized by the peace conference and calling upon the Rumanians to live up to the armistice terms. Mian said that the Rumanians are taking back supplies which German Field Marshal Von Mackensen took from them, but this explanation did not alter the decision of the supreme council, which was unanimous.

While the French ultimatum apparently were inclined to regard Rumanian occupation of the Rumanian territory as a violation of the armistice, it was evident at the last council meeting that they have changed their position. They have changed their position and are now in accord with the British and United States position which the Italians have been supporting consistently. It was made clear that the Rumanian ultimatum to Hungary cut off the communications of Central Europe and make it impossible to control the situation.

The text of the Rumanian ultimatum says as follows:

"The Rumanian supreme command makes the following conditions upon which it will accept the cessation of hostilities requested by the Hungarian government.

"The Rumanian supreme command will give up the occupation of all Hungary if the Hungarian supreme command agrees to deliver all material of war of every kind which remains in possession of the Hungarian troops and state.

"Equipment of all kinds needed for an army of 50,000 men must be handed over along with the following: 50 per cent. of all the rolling stock which still belongs to Hungary, according to the records of the Hungarian army; 50 per cent. of all the material which exists in Hungary and is used for the construction and repair of rolling stock; 200 thousand tons of motor trucks in good condition; 30 per cent. of all livestock animals of all kinds which exist at present, according to the records in Hungary."

U. S. Lecturers Are Classed As Intruders

British People Would Settle Their Affairs Themselves.

London. — Answering a question in the house of commons as to whether the government considered it informing the U. S. citizens here by a prohibition campaign that "the British electors prefer to settle their domestic questions at home," Edward Short, secretary of home affairs, said: "I am disposed to agree with the suggestion that the British people can settle this matter for themselves, but, as I have stated, I do not think this step by the government necessary."

The first part of the home secretary's answer was cheered.

Exemption Cases

New Judgment Has Important Bearing on Legality of Orders-in-Council.

Montreal. — A judgment which may have an important bearing upon all exemption cases under the Military Service act, in that it questions the legality of an order-in-council cancelling exemptions which have been duly and legally granted under the letter of the act, was handed down at Quebec in the case of Laford vs. Sefton.

It is indicated in the judgment that it may be necessary to reduce some of the cases. The judgment says that no order-in-council could abrogate penalties imposed under the Military Service act, and likewise should not be allowed to cancel exemptions granted.

Britain's Thanks

Formal Reception Given Military Leaders and Others for War Services.

London. — Marshal Foch of France, the allied chief of staff, and various military and auxiliary services of Great Britain that served in the war, were given a formal vote of thanks by the house of commons. The vote included mention of the British women's organizations. The formal thanks of the government are part of the recognition for war services. King George made known his recommendation for titles and honors to a number of the commanding officers of the land, air and sea forces.

Many U. S. Shoppers On Strike

Movement in the Unauthorized Walk-out From Railways Still Spreading.

Chicago. — Leaders of the Chicago district council of the Federation of Railway Shopmen's union said that 725,000 was a conservative estimate of the number of shoppers on strike throughout the country and that the movement was still spreading. They declared violence would be provoked by the organizers and so far as they knew no mail trains had been interfered with.

Japan Respects Chinese Sovereignty.

Tokyo. — Viscount Uchida, the Japanese foreign minister, is a statement, declares that Japan does not intend to claim any rights affecting the territorial sovereignty of China in Shantung. He promises that the Japanese troops will be withdrawn immediately an arrangement is concluded with China. Japan, moreover, the foreign minister's statement adds, is considering the establishment of a Tang Tsao of a general foreign settlement instead of a purely Japanese settlement.

Resign From Police Union.

London. — The local police of Liverpool, across the Mersey from Manchester, unanimously resigned membership in the police union as a protest against the latter's action in calling a strike. The men comprise about half the Liverpool police force.

Training Canadian Wives.

London. — British wives Canadian soldiers going out to fight in the Dominion now number 30,000. The movement initiated by the Kiwanis college to give special training to these for Canadian life has been remarkably successful.

Invite Poch to U. S.

Paris. — Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies during the war, is reported by the Echo de Paris to have been invited to the United States government, as well as several organizations in that country, to visit America.

Police Favored Strikers

Sensational Testimony Added To Evidence in Case of Sedition Conspiracy.

Winnipeg. — Direct evidence that the police stood by and watched the strikers on the first day of the strike, while they deliberately mistreated citizens on their way to work, treasured and destroyed property was given at the trial of the city strikers by A. A. Riley, of the Canada Red company. "Denial that citizens' complaints are more than a 'capitalistic concern' and that it was formed for any other purpose than endeavoring to continue the operation of public utilities during the strike was also tendered by Edward Parnell, of the Speirs-Parnell building company, at the morning session of the trial of the city strikers. He stated that one of the strikers, an Austrian, and a former employee of this department, had threatened to kill him."

R. B. Graham, crown prosecutor, was the first witness called at the afternoon session of the court. He said the police were permitted to remain on duty by the strike committee but could have been called out at a moment's notice and that at the outbreak of the trouble in Winnipeg they were not subversive to the orders of them, but rather the strikers.

A. A. Riley, manager of the Canada Red company, gave evidence that he had no notice of the strike until the afternoon of the first day of the strike. That evening, said the witness, an organized gang, two trucks loaded of "strong-arm men," came from downtown Winnipeg, the leader of a man named Winters, whom witness believed was organizer for the carpenters. These men forcibly entered the building, shut off the machinery and prevented the men from working.

"In response to a call by telephone," said a police officer called to the witness, "as we entered the building Winters came out. Speaking to officer he said: 'We've elected the last — scratch out.' The policeman replied: 'That's fine.' Turning to the policeman, I said: 'This is pretty tough luck, they've got no damage,' and he replied: 'I know, but the people are not going to stop for your business to be carried on like this you know.'"

Rioting At Liverpool

Soldiers Charged Mob With Bayonets and Instant Shots Are Heard.

Liverpool. — Troops at midnight charged with bayonets and dispersed a crowd of persons outside St. George's hall. Several of the soldiers were beaten with bayonets by the mob. At the same time, firing was heard in the Scotland road district, where it was said there have not yet been received.

The clash outside of St. George's hall resulted from an attack on a store by a crowd who endeavored to take away the store's rice. The strike fired his gun in the air and a squad of troops responded and charged the disturbers.

French Food Plan Is Success.

Paris. — The plan recently suggested by the French food ministry to reduce food prices is working successfully in some of the French cities. At Havre eggs have been reduced from $1.20 per dozen to 60 cents, onions from ten to five cents per pound, and potatoes from four to two cents per pound. The reductions in some foodstuffs vary from 20 to 50 per cent.

To Sell Airplanes.

London. — The Central News says it learns that the minister of munitions has contracted for the sale of 700 aircraft engines and a great number of airplanes for Canada and the United States.

Report Bolshevick Success.

Stockholm. — The Social Democratic party has announced that in the hands of the Bolsheviki, who they say, have succeeded in cutting the connection between the Murman and Archangel coasts.

Aviator Drowned.

To Guard Against National Bankruptcy

Strong Tariff Resolution

Text of Resolutions Submitted to the National Liberal Convention.

Ottawa. — The full text of the tariff resolutions submitted to the national Liberal convention was as follows: "That the best interests of Canada demand that substantial reductions of the burdens of customs taxation be made with a view to the accomplishing of two purposes of the highest importance: First, diminishing the very high cost of living which presses so severely on the masses of the people; second, reducing the cost of the instruments of production in the industries based on the natural resources of the Dominion, the economic development of which is essential to the progress of our country."

"That to these ends, wheat, wheat flour, and all products of wheat, the principal articles of food, farm implements and machinery, farm tractors, ploughs, flour and sawmill machinery and repair parts thereof; rough and dressed lumber, gas, oil, illuminating, lubricating and fuel oils, etc., net wines, and fishermen's equipments; cement and fertilizers, should be freed from custom duties, as well as the raw material entering into the same."

"That a revision downwards of the tariff should be made whereby substantial reductions should be effected in the duties of wearing apparel, and footwear and on other articles of general consumption (other than luxuries) as well as on the raw material entering into the manufacture of the same."

"That the British preference be increased to 50 per cent. of the general tariff, and the Liberal party hereby pledge itself to implement by legislation the provision of this revision when returned to power."

Troops Released To Obedience

Mutiny Caused Polish General To Resign Command.

Berlin. — A despatch to the Vorwarts from Bromberg, province of Posen, says it has been learned that the real reason for the resignation of General Muskat, commander of the Polish troops in Posen, was that there had been sanguinary mutinies of Polish troops in Posen, Gnesen and Warthe, and also at the front. The Polish troops, even battalions, the despatch says, refused to obey orders and maltreated their officers. In the Warthe camp, officers, who endeavored to have their arms, were shot dead or were badly wounded.

As growing discontent on the part of the soldiers at the Russian system, which Muskat introduced.

Prince Will Visit Quebec.

Quebec. — His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, will stay four days in Quebec City after he lands here on Thursday, Aug. 21, about five o'clock in the afternoon. He will proceed directly to his specially reserved quarters at the Citadel, where he will be received by the official representatives. The following day the official reception will be held at the municipal buildings, where addresses of welcome will be presented by Sir Lomer Gouin and Mayor Lavigne. The prince will remain in Quebec until Sunday the 24th inst.

U. S. Takes Action To Stop Profiteering

Washington. — Anti-trust suits against great meat packing firms were announced by Attorney General Palmer as the first concrete development of the government's campaign to reduce the high cost of living.

Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy, who have been pictured in the investigations of the federal trade commission and before congressional committees as a great combination to control food products, are to be sued again before the federal courts by special prosecutors. The evidence in hand, Attorney-General Palmer declared, indicated "a clear violation of the anti-trust laws."

While he was announcing prosecutions of the packers, Attorney-General Palmer was unleashing his spe-

London. — "If we continue spending at the rate we are now, it will lead us to national bankruptcy," was the strong warning given by J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer in the house of commons.

"If we cannot increase production," he continued, "we shall go straight to national bankruptcy. Neither increased production nor reduced expenses alone will be sufficient. We have got to do both if we are to pull through and turn the corner. The balance between expenditure and revenue is definitely and seriously less favorable than when I made my budget statement. Both sides of the account are failing to realize expectations."

"The delay in the conclusion of peace involves a greater naval and military expenditure, and one or two new blocks of expenditure have been added."

Mr. Chamberlain cited an additional £20,000,000 for pensions and increased naval pay and £4,500,000 for the police. On the receipts side, the speaker continued, the decision to control food meat prices is realizing on the vast trading in stocks of the food industry and, therefore, £2,000,000 from that source will not reach the exchequer this year.

The Order Of Merit

Lloyd George Receives Token of Appreciation From the King.

London. — King George has conferred upon Premier David Lloyd George the Order of Merit as a sign of his appreciation of Lloyd George's war services. In a letter to the premier, dated Buckingham Palace, August 5, announcing the award, the king said: "I have much pleasure in conferring upon you the Order of Merit."

Queen Victoria Statue.

Victoria, B. C. — The Prince of Wales is to be invited to lay the corner stone in connection with the monument to Queen Victoria in Parliament Square. The Harrison liner Historian is bringing the statue to this city. The monument is of bronze and will be given a Swedish granite. It was carved in England before the war, but shipment was prevented by the breaking out of hostilities.

Kaiser's Trial in London.

London. — The allies have not altered their decision to hold the trial of the former German emperor in London. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, announced in the house. He said no action in the matter could be taken until the German peace treaty was ratified.

Another major development of the day.

was the making public of the federal trade commission's report on the shoe industry investigation. This report charges that the high price of shoes is being forced upon the public by taking from every dealer in the trade, packers, tanners, manufacturers and retailers all shares in the blame. The report was placed before Attorney-General Palmer.

Filling His Own Shoes

—BY—

HENRY C. ROWLAND

Copyrighted. Printed by special arrangement with Thos. Allen, Toronto.

"Pinch a little at the toe, sir," asked Ruggles solicitously, for the gentleman whom he was serving was furnished with rather delicate, pointed pedal digits (which is by any bunchy toes) from having padded barfoot over the Kopsanok Mountains in his youth. "Let me stretch that out for you, sir. Take but a minute, and believe me, you will find it very comfortable."

"How much—dem shoe," asked the swarthy gentleman.

"Twenty-five francs, sir," Ruggles told him.

"Too much, I tell you twenty."

"Oh, no, never change our price, sir," said Ruggles, smiling up at him pleasantly. "It's not the way business is done in America, and this is an American company that we represent here."

"Yes—I know," granted the customer. "I am an American myself—or Chicago. I go now by Belgrade to fight those Osmanli (Turks). I am of the reserve corps. Captain, I understand! All right. Gimme dose shoes. Dey look all right."

"Very good, sir," said Ruggles. "Will you take them, or shall I have them sent?"

"Send dem down to Photie de France et de la Serbie."

Dartha heard no more. The Balkan gentleman had risen and was being escorted by Ruggles to the desk, while Miss Chaland, minding her niece, descended to find Dartha clinging to the newelpost and staring wildly in the direction of the cashier's desk.

"My dear!" cried Miss Chaland. "What is the matter? Are you ill?"

"I feel—I feel—"

and then, catching sight of Ruggles scribbling off his salescheck and knowing that the night was at any moment, she said abruptly, "I want some air. Let's go out."

Miss Chaland, noting the dilated pupils and curiously congested look of Dartha's cheeks, took no time in getting her to the door.

Once in the open air, Dartha appeared to breathe more freely.

"What is it, dear?" asked her aunt solicitously.

"Oh—just the smell of that horrid shop!" Dartha answered. "Never mind the shoes, aunt. Let's go home."

"Very well. But what was it that upset you?" said Miss Chaland stopped short in her tracks. "Was anybody rude?" she demanded.

"No, of course not," Dartha answered shortly. "I simply felt—I felt ill for a moment. Let's walk. It's not raining hard, and I'd like the air."

"Your feet will be soaping," objected her aunt, "and your shoes—"

"Oh, bother my shoes!" exclaimed Dartha, so sharply that her aunt gave her a quick, sidelong look filled with apprehension. She had never known her niece so angry. But when she saw, and Dartha certainly did not look ill. On the contrary, her eyes were bright and had a peculiar hard expression that Miss Chaland had never seen in them before, while on her cheeks, usually of a delicate pink, there was a flush which betrayed the attention of patients. "Miss Chaland was worried and perplexed. "My dear," said she, "I believe you have fever. Your face is crimsoned."

"It's nothing," Dartha answered shortly. "Coming in from the fresh air into a stuffy place like that—always makes me feel a little stifled. I don't take exercise enough, I fancy."

Miss Chaland reflected that the atmosphere of the spacious shop of the Walker Shoe Company was certainly not lacking in ventilation, even though laden with the aroma of fine leather and the usual odors of scent and clothes and other things pertaining to a crowd of people of any class. She decided to herself that Dartha must be overworked as the result of long hours spent before her easel, for the girl was a hard worker, and Miss Chaland was glad that the next day was to be Sunday and hoped that the weather would permit of their programme for spending the afternoon in the open air.

She reflected also that Ruggles all seemed to exert a cheerful influence upon her niece, and as the air appeared to be growing less heavy and the clouds breaking up, Miss Chaland encouraged a similar atmospheric change in her own kindly soul, to dislodge his burden of care.

CHAPTER V

To awake to the morning with a cool, fresh tingling of the skin and the sense of strongly renewed energy of mind and body, to turn drowsily to rest for a moment and feel that the vital impulse gathering to meet the shock of another day and to master it; to see the bright sunshine flooding the open window and let the birds sing outside; then, as fuller consciousness arouses from the slumber, to leap forth ready and eager for that which the day may bring forth. Such were the sensations of Ruggles as he bounded out of his little room, stretched his arms above his head, freed his muscles from the constriction of eight hours with scarcely a change of position, and felt the gathering exhilaration "as of a giant who rejoices to run his course."

Had shown him that he was rich, he would have taken her aunt and herself around Paris on the tops of trams and buses?

He was too unable to understand, he came to the very natural conclusion that Dartha must have thought him guilty of having tried to suit her false colors and to give her aunt and herself the impression that he was a person of considerable importance.

He remembered having once hinted that he hoped shortly to be entrusted with a position of responsibility which might take him upon the coast to live in Vienna, and he reflected that after such a statement it naturally might seem disappointing to her to find him trying on shoes.

Dartha, after all, could scarcely be expected to understand that a man might be doing customers one day and occupying the proud position of manager in a similar store a week later.

Artists were always impractical folk, and Dartha was an artist. She had never been deeply jumped to the conclusion that he had been expounding his business importance, the idea of trying to impress her.

She was really not to be blamed, the shoes had been a mistake. She was so upset over finding him engaged in trying on shoes showed that, in her opinion, such an occupation was unworthy of him. After all, very likely she was right, and he had been abusing his talents in remaining "so long a time a mere salesman."

Ruggles' last developments in this connection is the production of an aeroplane set which can be converted within a few moments for transportation of either voice or Morse signals.

Prospects For Big Yield Improvements Throughout Country.

Ottawa.—With the exception of Ontario, apple crop prospects have improved in Canada, according to the August 1 report of the fruit commission branch, department of agriculture.

The report says: "Since our last report, the prospects for the apple crop have improved in Nova Scotia and British Columbia. We are now estimating the Nova Scotia crop at 1,250,000 barrels, including all grades packed for export out of the province. As the local consumption is estimated at 200,000 barrels, that brings the total export to nearly 1,050,000 barrels.

Export of fruit used by evaporators, canning factories and cider mills is the estimate. It is likely that a large portion of the crop will be exported. The Okanagan Valley crop is now estimated at thirty per cent larger than last year, as compared with the 25 per cent increase predicted in our last issue."

Wireless Telegraphy In Night flying

Test Carried Out During a Recent Night Flight from Kenley to Paris.

London, England.—The extraordinary value of wireless telephony for directional purposes in connection with aircraft has been emphasized recently in its relation to night flying. It often happens that in daylight inter-communication between planes, between wireless stations and aircraft is unnecessary, but in flying across country at night the use of the wireless phone will become more and more efficacious.

Some details are now available of a test carried out during a recent night flight from Kenley to Paris. This is no way constitutes a record, but is nevertheless interesting as indicating the possibilities of the matter of night flying.

Has now been definitely adopted as a means of ground to air communication and vice versa. In London-Paris route, and the test in question was made with one of the first machines on this service fitted for the purpose.

Communication was opened as soon as the Handley Page had obtained the necessary clearance from the ground station, the receiver was turned in and speech was very clearly heard from Kenley. The officer in charge of the flight, in his report, speech, quality, and strength, and states that he "fully recognized the voice as that of an old friend."

At a distance of about 35 miles the strength of signals was so great that speech from the aeroplane could be clearly heard at Kenley with the receiver laid upon the table. At 50 miles it was still distinct and constant and was heard by the aeroplane as crossing the channel and was in touch with Marquise, the first ground station on the French coast.

On the return journey conversation between the machine and Marquise was again picked up at Kenley, and the flight was completed with communication with the machine 30 minutes before it landed.

One of the latest developments in this connection is the production of an aeroplane set which can be converted within a few moments for transmission of either voice or Morse signals.

On that November 9 last Field-Fleming had the following telegram, feeling eager I should be loyal followed by him and his armies:

The disorganized enemy, owing to the weather, is giving up along the entire front. It is essential to maintain and accelerate our operations. I call upon the energy and determination of the Canadian officers and their armies in order to secure and render decisive the results.

Strengthen The Farmer Hands Good Roads and Schools Are Among the Essentials.

If we do not insist upon the best sort of education, and in every way make it easy for those who pursue farming to secure and maintain them; if we do not encourage and support the standards of farm life as shall keep men and women happy in their work and surroundings; we will find ourselves facing a disastrous lack at the very source of our strength, as well as our production.

To guard against such a contingency, we must make good roads, better schools and more active churches, our first consideration. There can be no satisfactory farm life where transportation and social intercourse are impeded by mud and ruts. Everyone knows how many farmers have moved to town in order to give their children decent school advantages. And no student of the last dozen years can have failed to recognize the weakness of the rural church as a moral and cultural influence in the community.

Of the three main issues in the matter of the farm, the one that is most anyone who thinks they solely concern the farm is blind to the major problems of world progress. The food crop we raise on our farms during the next ten years will largely determine the physical welfare of the people on earth. The kind of homes we encourage and make possible on these farms will virtually influence our whole citizenship.

It is no longer a matter of urging a movement back to the farm. That, of course, is necessary. But perhaps the most urgent of all is the aging stage a trend is to get back of the farm with all our sense and reason, and make it the most attractive, as it is the valuable, asset we have.—Philadelphian North American.

Pays Tribute To Haig

Brotherly Feeling Manifested At The Front In France

London.—Marshal Foch paid a remarkable tribute to the Field-Marshal Haig during the course of his address after the freedom of the city of London was bestowed on him. The generalissimo said:

"He spared more than any other the lives of his men. What interested him was the welfare of his men. He was not a man of the north and I, from the south, despite great distances, felt his heart was beating like two big brothers in order to live in closest intimacy and ensure by a sincere community of ideas the more and more the unity of our arms."

We had to do so to force events."

On that November 9 last Field-Fleming had the following telegram, feeling eager I should be loyal followed by him and his armies:

The disorganized enemy, owing to the weather, is giving up along the entire front. It is essential to maintain and accelerate our operations. I call upon the energy and determination of the Canadian officers and their armies in order to secure and render decisive the results.

Archie Hoggins on Burdett Town painter has installed a very nice sign for Major Small's Ice Cream and Luncheon Parlor at Burdett.

One of our leading farmers J. Donaldson had the misfortune to be kicked in the face while branding a young horse; all unknown to Mr. Donaldson, the horse had worked the rope loose, and when it felt the hot iron, it lashed out and severely injured Mr. Donaldson in the face, which required several stitches to be put in by the doctor.

The Review sincerely hopes that the wound will soon heal and that Mr. Donaldson will be able to get around as usual in a few days.
